Notes Taken at the First Meeting of the Parent Forum and Council

12 Sep 2007

On Wednesday 12 September 2007 the Rector chaired a meeting of the Madras College Parent Forum. He outlined how schools were moving to the new Parent Forums and Councils under recent legislation. The meeting approved a constitution with some small amendments to the tabled draft. Up to 30 parents can be on the Council, with the possibility of co-opting other members. Almost this number of parents volunteered to be on the Parent Council.

The first meeting of the new Parent Council will be in the Kilrymont Road building on 3 October at 7.30 pm. This meeting, in common with most other meetings of the Parent Council is a public meeting, and all parents will be welcome to attend.

The Rector reported that Historic Scotland has recently classified the Kilrymont Road School buildings as Grade B listed buildings. This brought gasps of astonishment from many at the meeting.

There were not as yet any obvious developments from Fife Council in the push for ending the split-site Madras College. We hope that the new administration will soon move to progress this.
